Training Activity - Internships for Graduates

Salerno

The Path 4 Career project partners have been working hard towards the development of the project objectives and outputs. Objective one has been at the forefront of activities of late which includes:

Improving the skills of 16 partner organizations' trainers to deliver quality training in career management, soft skills (complex problem solving, critical thinking, people management, co-ordination with others, analysis and decision making) and internship for graduates.

The latest Training Activity took place in the magnificent Salerno, Italy from the 8th -12th July, 2019 and was hosted by the project Italian partners Essenia. The training was designed around the subject of Internships for Graduates. In a forever competitive workforce, internships have become a paramount advantage to graduates who want to excel in their desired career, faster.

The two main goals for this training activity were:

1. To teach the project's selected trainers to develop and implement their own training that will lead to the development of adult and soft skills to choose and access an internship relevant to their career.
2. To work towards the development, and establish a working plan for the Internship-a step in your career chapter of the Path 4 Career Guide and working methodologies for training workshops
